Army, Marines, Smash Ahead On Jap Island Of Okinawa

U.S. Invasion Forces Driving Across Okinawa

Estimate 100,000 Yanks Taking Part In Latest Invasion 325 Miles From Japan

EARLY STAGES SHOW SLIGHT OPPOSITION

BULLETIN
NEW YORK, April 2.—(INS)—American invasion forces have started landings on Kume Jima Island, about 60 miles west of Okinawa and west of the Kerama group where the original Japanese landings were made, a Tokyo broadcast said today.

Recorded by the British Broadcasting company, the report was picked up by Blue network monitors in New York.

GUAM, April 2.—The speedy initial advance of American invasion forces across the narrow neck of central Okinawa threatened today to drive a wedge of steel and fighting men between the northern and southern parts of the 60-mile-long island only 325 miles from Japan.

Elements of the marines and army troops of the newly-activated 10th U. S. army were officially placed three miles inland from the western shore of the strategic island of the Ryukyu chain. Within the first day of the invasion these forces—estimated at 100,000 men and commanded by Lieut. Gen. Simon Bolivar Buckner, Jr.—were in control of 24 square miles of beachhead, 16 Okinawa towns and two of the island's five strategic airfields.

PA NEW Observes

Mrs. C. R. Brenner of Huron avenue reports that she was quite surprised Friday to find a large bed of pansies blooming in her yard.

Easter weather enjoyed in New Castle and Lawrence County on Sunday was about as fine as could be wished for the day.

More flowers and flowering trees came into bloom over the week end, among them a sour cherry tree in the yard next door, a Magnolia tree nearby, many plants that lived over the winter in the garden, and creeping ground myrtle.

Wind storm of Saturday afternoon reached severe proportions in some sections of the county, some billboards being blown down, windows broken, damage done to the roof of numerous buildings, and other effects being reported.

Apparently the winter snow season is over for the State Highway Department. The snow fences erected last fall throughout Lawrence county, are being removed and placed in storage for the summer.

Sounded somewhat like old times on Saturday afternoon when Pa New was accosted by strangers in an auto on the public square and asked how to get on the way to Detroit. Motor tourists have been rare since the start of the war.

Continued from hooking aroused operators along East Washington street about 2:30 Sunday afternoon. It was discovered that some autoists were escorting a wedding party through the street.

Okinawa Landing Another Great Step Toward Jap Defeat

By MAJOR PAUL C. RABORG
(Written Especially For I. N. S.)
NEW YORK, April 2.—Another great step forward toward the destruction of the Japanese empire has been begun with the U. S. landing on Okinawa.

Troops from the new 10th American army and marines, within the first two and a half hours, had captured two airfields and sixteen populated places. That definitely indicates that the beachhead is already firmly established.

However, a warning was issued to our troops on the island to the effect that Japanese garrison there was estimated to be between sixty and eighty thousand strong, and that very few of them were killed during the preparatory bombardment and the initial landings. In other words, there is a terrific job of killing yet ahead.

Many Possibilities
No analyst in the United States could, at this time, correctly tell what strategic use will be made of the island, nevertheless, there are

Vinson Is Named To Succeed Him—Byrnes Believes V-E Day Not Far Distant

By ARTHUR F. HERMANN
(U. S. Staff Correspondent)

WASHINGTON, April 2.—The White House today announced the resignation of James F. Byrnes as director of war mobilization and reconstruction, and sent to the Senate the nomination of Federal Loan Administrator Fred A. Vinson to succeed him.

"I think V-E day is not far distant," Byrnes stated in his letter of resignation.

Byrnes had publicly stated on several occasions that he would step down from his high post of "assistant president" when the Germans were defeated.

Date Not Definite
The letter of resignation was dated March 24, the day that allied armies crossed the Rhine river in strength. While Byrnes did not specify the date for surrender of his official duties, White House Secretary Jonathan Daniels declared

Muenster Fall Believed Near

By JOHN E. LEE
(U. S. Staff Correspondent)

WITH THE BRITISH SECOND ARMY ON THE MUENSTER ROAD, Germany, April 2.—The ancient German beer and textile city of Muenster today hung like a ripe plum and the leaders of the British Second Army expect it to fall into their armored grasp in the very near future.

Along the Jannes highway between Haltern and Duielmen a constant stream of Lieut. Gen. Miles C. Dempsey's tanks, guns and troops are advancing on the Ems river communications hub.

Officers of the British Sixth Guards' Armored Brigade said there still remained a crust of Nazi defiance to the west of the city, which before the war had a population of 123,000. But once these lines are broken, the fall of the Westphalian capital is expected to be only a matter of hours.

Hitler First On War Criminal List

LONDON, April 2.—(INS)—Reichsfuehrer Adolf Hitler heads the first list of Nazi war criminals completed by the United Nations War Crimes commission, officials revealed today.

It was announced at the same time that the list, which includes the names of major and "obvious" war criminals, was sent last December to the 16 nations having membership in the commission.

A report on the work of the commission added that five lists of persons believed to have been war criminals have been prepared to date. However the names and number on the lists are being withheld.

Russian Forces Now Within 20 Miles Of Vienna

Austrian Capital Is Now Within Sound Of Big Russian Guns

GERMAN LINES ARE CRUMBLING

By NATALIA RENE
(U. S. Staff Correspondent)

MOSCOW, April 2.—Red army assault forces are believed to have broken into the streets of the important Austrian industrial city of Wiener Neustadt, 25 miles south of Vienna, and dispatches to Moscow said today.

Other Soviet forces already had surged to within little more than 20 miles of the Austrian capital, bringing the city within sound of Russian guns.

The Soviet forces appeared to be crumbling the enemy lines before Vienna rapidly.

The drive through the outer defenses of Vienna was made by the Third Ukrainian army, under command of Marshal Feodor I. Tolbukhin, which swept the Nazis from 190 towns and took 26,000 German prisoners.

To Study Plan To Cut Taxes

Recommendations For Reductions Next Year Expected If Nazis Are Conquered Soon

By WILLIAM S. NEAL
(U. S. Staff Correspondent)

WASHINGTON, April 2.—Congressional tax experts will begin studying definite recommendations for a cut in taxes, effective next January 1, if Germany is completely crushed within the next few weeks.

This was disclosed today as military news and reconversion reports of War Mobilizer James F. Byrnes' heightened congressional interest in legislation for the home front following V-E day.

"I do not think any changes in the tax laws could be made effective before next Jan. 1, but those who have been considering the aspects of a postwar tax program are about ready to begin study of actual rates," said Sen. George D. Ga., chairman of the senate finance committee.

George disclosed that "postwar taxation" may be considered in two phases—the change in tax structure after Germany is beaten, and a general peace-time tax structure after Japan also is whipped.

Promosals for tax reduction, already considered by treasury and congressional experts, have been studied both from the standpoint of the financial situation of the government and keeping business at top speed during the reconversion period.

Sun Shines Out On Brightest Easter Since Pre-War Years

Double-crossing all the pessimists who predicted nothing else but rain for Easter, the sun came out in his full glory Sunday bringing with him one of the brightest Easter mornings in years.

The fact that he retired behind some clouds late in the afternoon may have been caused by the fact that he was being rivaled by so much brightness strolling around the town after church and during the rest of the day. Coats in soft pastel shades of green, pink, yellow, and blue over gay print dresses, and topped by hats with decorated veils were just too much for the old boy.

Kelly-green coats were walking along side of chartruse suits with utter disregard for artistic principles, whether the flowers on a lady's head were her corsage or her hat.

Down town streets were as busy as on a shopping day, except that people were being seen, and the residential streets were even livelier than on week-days. When the sun finally did step off the stage for the day, people merely stopped their walking and gathered on bus corners to ride downtown to church.

Since the last thing a lady could do on Easter would be to stay home, the colors were just as bright Sunday evening as Sunday morning, and the flowers just a little bit browned. The day was definitely the most colorful the town has seen since the Easter before the war.

German Supplies Falling To Allies Pose Big Problem

Gen. Eisenhower Asks Unsuccessfully For Special Commission To Aid In Disposal

By LEON PEARSON
(U. S. Staff Correspondent)

WASHINGTON, April 2.—It was disclosed officially today that Gen. Dwight D. Eisenhower has unsuccessfully asked the war and state departments to send him a special commission to dispose of the tremendous quantities of German supplies and equipment falling into the hands of advancing allied armies.

So much movable equipment of all kinds has been taken—food, coal, salt, sulphur, locomotives, trolley cars, electrical equipment, etc., that supreme headquarters is incumbered with it, and called on Washington for help.

Two-Fold Problem
Eisenhower's problem is two-fold, as described by Washington officials today:

1. He must decide which of several claimants—France, Belgium, Holland, Luxembourg, or his own forces—can make the best use of a given shipment of coal, for example.

2. He must make only temporary disposition of German property, to avoid interfering with the work of the permanent reparations commission in Moscow.

When officials of the war and state departments met to create the requested commission, however, they

Crowds Attend Easter Services

Beautiful Weather Adds To Large Attendance At Services On Sunday

With churches filled to overflowing, Easter services at churches of the community were marked by special sermons giving the message of Christ's resurrection, and special choral and organ music pealing forth the joyous and inspirational music traditional to Easter.

Predominant among the special Easter observances at churches, in greater number than for many years, were sunrise services planned and carried out by the young people's groups of the churches.

At some churches, cantatas were presented at special afternoon or evening services. In others the day was marked by Sunday school programs or Youth Fellowship presentations.

Observance of the sacrament of the Lord's Supper was carried out at all churches at some time during holy week or on Easter.

Reception of new members, traditional to most churches as part of the Easter observance, was impressively carried out in congregations of the community.

Some churches also held baptismal service in connection with Easter observance.

Scattered Clashes On Italian Front

ROME, April 2.—Scattered clashes along the Italian battlefield were reported by Mediterranean headquarters today in a communique which told of continued heavy aerial onslaughts against German targets in four countries.

Planes of the Mediterranean Allied air force carried out 2,800 sorties yesterday over Austria, Yugoslavia, Czechoslovakia and Northern Italy. Great quantities of rail and road transport were destroyed or damaged along with ammunition and supply dumps.

Coastal aircraft battered shipping in the northern Adriatic.

ALLIES' FAST-SHRINKING TARGET

Rapidly closing in on Berlin, the rampaging Allied spearheads are fast slicing up the unconquered enemy territory. Breaking all speed records, the U. S. First Army (1) pushes northward, isolating the Ruhr. Gen. Hodges' U. S. 9th Army, (2), heads northward to cut off Bremen and north Germany. In the East the Russians (3) are driving into Austria. Negotiations On Coal Wage Scale Being Resumed On Tokyo Plants

WASHINGTON, April 2.—(INS)—Negotiations for a 1945 coal-wage agreement resumed today after a wartime strike and government seizure of the mines were narrowly averted by the last-minute order of UMW President John L. Lewis to the nation's miners to continue at work for 30 days under the old contract.

Many miners were idle today in observance of the anniversary of the establishment of the eight-hour day in the mining industry, but they have been instructed by the UMW's international officers to report to their jobs tomorrow.

Lewis and the negotiating representatives of bituminous mine owners scheduled a meeting today to seek a way out of the current wage deadlock, with the War Labor board slated to step in if no progress is made this week.

Japanese Women In Jap Uniforms Attack Americans

By JULIAN HARTT
(U. S. Staff Correspondent)
WITH THE TWENTY-FOURTH ARMY CORPS, Okinawa, April 2.—Eleven Japanese women, dressed in Jap uniforms complete with helmets and carrying grenades and one light machine gun and four rifles attacked a Twenty-Fourth Corps artillery unit some distance behind the lines during the night in what is believed to be the first instance of the use of women in ground operations in the Pacific.

Five men accompanied the women in the attack. Doughboys opened fire and killed all six women. Of the six, three committed suicide by exploding their grenades. The other three were wounded and one of them was dying late this morning.

The scene of the attack was in rough gullied terrain inland from the Sumabe area.

The women's ages were estimated at from 23 to 40. It was believed probable that they hid in caves until we took the area rather than infiltrate as civilians. Civilians have been taken from hiding places and out in stockades and hundreds of them are now in American custody.

Counter-Attack By Nazis Beaten

WITH THE U. S. FIRST ARMY, April 2.—(INS)—A German counter-attack at the bottom of the Ruhr pocket was beaten off today.

The attack was made in the area of the Sieg river where First Army troops are fighting in the north-eastern outskirts of Siegen.

Paderborn, cleared yesterday, is now firmly held by elements of the Third Armored Division.

American troops gained some five miles yesterday and reached Aler-Ruthen, 20 miles southwest of Paderborn against moderate resistance from German infantry and 20 millimeter anti-aircraft guns.

In this area the Germans attempted a small infiltrating attack.

Report Patton's Forces About 160 Miles From Berlin

New 25-Mile Advance Puts Part Of Third Army 20 Miles Beyond Fulda

OTHER ARMIES ARE ALSO ADVANCING

By JAMES L. KILGALLEN
(U. S. Staff Correspondent)

PARIS, April 2.—Armored spearheads of Lt. Gen. George S. Patton's American Third Army today by-passed the city of Fulda in the drive on Berlin, sweeping 20 miles beyond the city in a 25-mile advance which placed forward units within 180 miles of the German capital.

Other Third Army forces pushed closer to Eisenach, capture of which will place American troops some 160 miles from Berlin.

Troops of the Canadian First Army, in the meantime, launched a new local attack south of Arnheim and front dispatches said that advances of nearly one mile had been carved out.

Gen. Patton's armored units threw heavy attacks against the Germans along a 55-mile front from Fulda north to Kassel, with spearheads lunging to the east.

By-Passing Fulda
The 11th Armored Division rolled north and then swung to the east, by-passing Fulda and reaching Muehldorf, 20 miles east of Fulda, in a 25-mile advance.

The Fourth Armored Division pushed six miles to the east to reach a point three miles west of Eisenach, while the 80th Infantry (Continued on Page Two)

Aluminum Company Sets Shipping Mark

PITTSBURGH, April 2.—(INS)—Shipments of the Aluminum Company of America last year registered the highest volume in the company's history, with an 8 per cent increase over the 1943 peak. It was revealed today in an annual report to stockholders.

Consolidated net income for the year, however, decreased 26 per cent to $31,693,480 from $42,901,369 in 1943, the report stated. Net income, after preferred dividends, was equal to $5.46 a share on common stock against $7.95 a share for 1943.

Earnings were reduced by an increase in the proportion of shipments represented by low profit margin pig and ingot, according to the report.

Japs Report Raid Made On Shanghai

BULLETIN
NEW YORK, April 2.—(INS)—A radio on Jap-occupied Shanghai by "several" P-51 Mustang fighter planes shortly after 10 a. m. (East China time) today was reported by the Jap Domei agency.

The raiders, according to the dispatch recorded by the FCC, strafed Jap military installations. Some of the craft were said to have flown over the business section of the city but did not drop bombs there.

I do not propose to get lyrical, and I certainly won't be satirical, but on Easter Day, I could not help but utter the bonnets that had me overthrown. They were large like a cap and I wish, man, that I were could set out what the girls were about, as they copied their grandmother's fish pan. But away with such thoughts on the Easter, those bonnets were lovely and mister, it's just sixty-three, you say what about me, well in one case I reached down and kissed her.

Atlantic Boardwalk Recovers From Gala Display On Easter

ATLANTIC CITY, N. J., April 2.—(INS)—The famed Atlantic City Boardwalk returned to normal today after playing the stage for a gala display of color spring raincoats worn by thousands of Easter parade participants who vied for prizes of waffles and neckties.

Fully 125,000 strollers thronged the "world's playground" for the splendid costumes of the women set off by the more sombre khaki and navy blues of the majority of the men.

Sunny skies and temperatures in the high 60's gave perfect atmosphere for the parade, and a few of the bolder visitors even went sunbathing in 55-degree water.

A rainbow of color was created by the flower-decked hats—big ones, small ones, zolly feathered, crisply veiled—topping frocks and suits. Furs also predominated in the gayest display of Easter pageantry since Pearl Harbor.

Evidence Shows Manila Slaughter Ordered By Japan

MANILA, April 2.—(INS)—Documentary evidence showing that the slaughter of thousands of innocent civilians, women and children in Manila was carried out on direct orders from the Japanese high command was in the hands of American officials today.

A bulky report based on affidavits by competent ecclesiastical, civilian and military witnesses, interrogation of prisoners and captured documents confirmed the bestial, cold-blooded rape of Manila.

The 200-page report bears out the sickening pictures of bayoneted babies, mothers with slashed breasts and piles of bound and burned corpses.

Present testimony concerning the enemy's coldly planned bestiality is "only a fragment of the mounting volume of available evidence," the report stated.

that the war mobilizer would stay at his desk as long as his services were needed—presumably until Vinson has been confirmed by the Senate and sworn into office.

Vinson's elevation leaves vacant again the hotly contested position of federal loan administrator, from which Jesse Jones was "fired" by President Roosevelt to make room for Henry A. Wallace in payment of a political debt.

In his letter of resignation, Byrnes reminded the president that he had twice before indicated his desire to resign—last June when Congress was considering the bill to expand the office of war mobilization to include operations of reconversion, and again in November when he told the president he would accept the newly expanded job only until VE-day.

immense possibilities. That island is more than half way between northern Luzon and the southernmost of the large Japanese home islands.

Therefore, it could be used as a stepping-stone of advance towards Tokyo. Or, it can be made into a great air base for the bombardment of Japan proper. It could also be a sea base for use in cutting off the Japanese sea route through the South-China sea to Malaya and the Dutch East Indies.

Could By-Pass Formosa?

The island of Okinawa is north of the northernmost portion of Formosa. Therefore, when we have suggested the Japanese on this newest attack target, Okinawa could be used to by-pass Formosa.

The story of Okinawa as a possible air base is most interesting. Just a short time ago, General George C. Kenny, air force chief in the Pacific, announced that the Japanese have lost approximately ten thousand planes since September 1, 1944. That is almost two thousand planes a month, and it is not believed Japan has any such replacement capacity.

It is an impressive commentary on our degree of preparedness that even though the war in Germany is probably at its very peak of Allied manpower requirements, still in the far east we have the men and ships available to carry on these great amphibious assaults, following rapidly in succession. Everyone may be thankful that this latest American attack did not commence with the terrific rate of casualties which occurred on the islands of Tarawa and Iwo Jima.

disagreed as to what powers it should have. The issue was whether it should make decisions for SHAEF, or merely advise.

See Problems

The war department insisted it should have powers of decision to relieve SHAEF of that burden. But the state department it was feared, shied away from this course as being fraught with international complications.

Since the commission would be international in character, state department officials said it might get into trouble about voting powers; should the vote of Luxembourg be equal to the vote of Great Britain? Also, it might offend Russia by making immediate disposition of some of Germany's most valuable assets, in the industrial area being overrun by the western allies. This might appear to be under-cutting the permanent reparations commission in Moscow.

The clash between these two viewpoints delayed the creation of a commission. After a period which one official described as "too long," it was decided not to send a commission, but to throw the task back into the lap of Gen. Eisenhower.

Division, following up the armored advance, now is fighting in the outskirts of Kassel.

In the meantime, the Third Army's Sixth Armored Division pushed six miles to the east to reach Spaigenburg, 15 miles southeast of Kassel.

In the area northeast of Frankfurt, where American troops were mopping up fluid Nazi forces, the Germans were sneaking out units in attempts to ambush the Americans.

The U. S. First Army captured Paderborn, and sent armored spearheads eight miles to the east to the sector north of Warburg.

During the past 24 hours, the Third Army captured 7,100 Germans while the First Army captured 5,700.

Drive Ahead

On the U. S. Seventh Army front to the south, elements of the Third Infantry Division in a rapid advance drove to Erlenfurth, 15 miles east of Aschaffenburg. Other Seventh Army troops pushed six miles southeast of Heidelberg.

Field Marshal Sir Bernard L. Montgomery's 1st Army Group was reported officially by supreme headquarters to be making good progress with the promise that the security veil which has screened its movements is likely to be lifted soon.

A vast bag of 16 German divisions, totalling possibly 90,000 Nazi troops, was trapped in the vital industrial Ruhr area when it was cut off from the rest of Germany by American armies.

Disclosure that the haul of enemy forces might prove far greater than originally expected when the Ruhr was blocked off by the U. S. First and Ninth armies which joined forces at Lippstadt was made by a spokesman at headquarters of Gen. Dwight D. Eisenhower.

Allied armies along the rest of the western front continued to surge eastward with the Third Army of Lieut. Gen. George S. Patton spearheading the drive on Berlin by smashing into the outskirts of the Kessel, 167 miles from the Reich capital.

The Canadian First Army at the northern end of the front launched a new attack to clear the Germans from the eastern Netherlands between Nijmegen and Arnhem. A dispatch from Field Marshal Sir Bernard L. Montgomery's headquarters said that an easterly movement by German transport continued from Holland throughout the night as the enemy sought to escape entrapment in northern Holland.

Pound Fleeing Germans
Throughout the night British Mosquitoes pounded the Germans fleeing from the Netherlands.

Marshal Montgomery's British Second Army, moving forward north of the Ruhr under a security blackout, scored overnight gains of eight to 10 miles, front dispatches said, adding to gains of up to 15 miles rolled up yesterday.

The German DNB agency asserted that British spearheads had reached the western edge of the Teutoburg forest south of Bielefeld. The Germans said also that their defense units were fighting fierce British attacks before Hamm and the western parts of Muenster.

In Paris it was felt that the way things are going there should be no surprise if, on the disclosure of the security blackout, it was disclosed that Marshall Montgomery's forces found little to halt them between the Elbe canal and the Weser river.

Estimate Thousands Trapped
The 16 German divisions trapped in the Ruhr include crack Panzer units and paratroopers, the headquarters spokesman said. The enemy forces were estimated to total anywhere between 40,000 to 90,000.

It was pointed out that it was difficult to estimate closely the exact bag of enemy forces because Nazi divisions vary in numbers and some are far below strength.

The Germans in the Ruhr were caught within an area approximately 75 miles by 60 miles. The territory in the site of numerous German administrative headquarters.

Seventh Pushes Ahead
The U. S. Seventh Army's 12th Armored Division continued its steady push on the right flank of the Third Army, gaining control of more than 14 miles of the Main river southeast of Wuerzburg.

The 10th Armored Division rolled 15 miles south from Mannheim to make contact with French First Army troops expanding a bridgehead across the Rhine.

At headquarters it was estimated that the Seventh Army was taking prisoner the equivalent of one full German division every three days.

Near Bad-Mergentheim the Seventh Army captured Lieut. Gen. Count Von Orloa, general of artillery of the German 13th Army group.

A third airstrip, location of which was not immediately disclosed, was said to have been overrun by the Yank invaders.

At three miles inland, the advanced spearheads were thus at advanced positions which would place them within three to five miles of an irregular eastern side of Okinawa, invaded early Sunday after ten days of relentless shelling and bombing by a powerful allied fleet.

Fighting Is Light
Despite reports that Japanese resistance throughout the first day of fighting was light, there was no assurance that the enemy would not seek to stem the American drive. Directly across the island from the initial landings, which were effected along an eight-mile stretch of the west coast, is a harbor once used by the Jap navy as a fleet anchorage.

Huge Invasion Force
Invasion of Okinawa, largest and central island of the strategic Ryukyu archipelago was staged by a powerful amphibious force backed up by a convoy of some 1,400 ships. The Ryukyu chain stretches from near the northern tip of Formosa to within 60 miles of Japan itself.

cessfully completed the long siege of powerful Nazi stronghold of Glogau.

(The German radio said the Soviets had opened a giant assault on Sztettin with 30 divisions and that it may be the start of an offensive to envelop Berlin. The Soviet communiqué made no mention of the new drive at the northern end of the eastern front.)

Drive Toward Bratislava
Marshal Rodion Malinovsky's Second Ukrainian forces scooped up more than 100 towns and villages and took 6,150 prisoners in their drive toward Bratislava.

The First Ukrainian army bringing their siege of more than 40 days against the Nazi Oder river stronghold of Glogau to an end, captured more than 8,000 survivors of the fanatic enemy garrison.

Glogau, which had been divided into four major resistance areas by the Germans and connected by underground passages, was taken only after bitter street fighting in which thousands of Nazis were left dead on the field.

The Third Ukrainian army's advance on Vienna was highlighted by the capture of the border city of Sopron, the German stronghold in Austria of Matternburg, Rust and Trausnitz in swift gains of more than 12 miles.

Science says: Thousands can recapture youth of face and throat

Seven years ago, eminent scientists gave the world ENDOCREME, an epoch-making contribution to the beauty of the feminine face and throat. Today, ENDOCREME is aiding thousands between 22 and 70 to regain the charm of a youthful skin to a degree hitherto thought impossible. This it does by helping to improve the skin itself, not merely its superficial appearance. ENDOCREME, you know, is the only face cream that contains ACTIVOL. This precious ACTIVOL is the laboratory counterpart of a natural skin-vitalizing substance. When you apply ENDOCREME, it is absorbed beneath the skin's surface to rebuild cells and tissues. It thus functions to aid the skin to recapture its youthful freshness, firmness, smoothness and allure. What bigger value can one get for her cosmetic dollars than this? You, too, should try ENDOCREME. Many report truly astonishing results in only 30 days.

Germans Wasting Time

It is a changed time that the Berlin broadcasters are playing these days, but even if it does sound sweet to Allied ears it will not lead anyone into the belief that war efforts can now be relaxed or cause kindlier feeling toward the people of the Reich.

On the contrary, this new humility on the part of enemy propagandists, this admission of impending defeat, will be clearly recognized for what it is—an appeal to traditional American sympathy for a beaten foe and an attempt to obtain softer terms of peace.

The Germans have been mistaken many times in their estimate of the character of Americans, but they have never made a greater error than in assuming, as they do now, that Allied peoples can be persuaded to look upon the Nazis as merely a misguided people.

When they implore Americans to ask themselves if they have found the Nazis "self-satisfied, over-bearing, fanatical, heartless and brutal," the answer is in the affirmative, and regardless of what happens in the immediate future, it will remain in the affirmative.

The record in this matter is long and plain. It began before the war with the assassination of thousands of persons whose political convictions and racial origins did not suit Hitler and his gang. It continued throughout that part of the war when the Nazi military machine was rolling along and did not hesitate to liquidate persons or cities in its path. It may never be known how many Europeans have been innocent victims of the Nazis but for blood, but the number is in the millions.

So the Berlin radio may as well stop begging for mercy. What Germany will get after this war and what she deserves is full punishment.

Price Of Delusion

Actual date of Nazi surrender is the only point at issue in the European war. All possibility of Nazi victory or a stalemate has vanished. Whole sections of the principal Nazi cities have been destroyed. Twenty million persons are homeless. Little food remains. Transportation systems have ceased to function.

Thousands of Nazi soldiers are being killed or captured daily. Thousands of non-combatants are dying from bomb blasts. Everywhere in Germany life has become torture. Futility of further resistance must be apparent to everyone. If the struggle continues much longer there will be little left standing to mark what was once the world's most sinister military nation.

Here, then, is something new in the history of war. Never before has it been recorded that a nation elected to fight on in the face of not only defeat but of inevitable physical destruction. While the price of peace has been fixed as unconditional surrender, it has been repeatedly explained that surrender can be honorable and under present circumstances would serve the best interests of the German people.

While the Allies continue to pour their invincible might upon Germany, the resultant destruction is the price they continue to pay for the world's greatest delusion.

He Knows How

To punish a Nazi criminal it first is necessary to catch him, and it is becoming increasingly apparent that catching Nazi war criminals is going to have all the aspects of a major operation.

The Nazis can be expected to do everything possible to stay out of the clutches of the Allies. Already there are grounds for belief that more than a few of them have caused accounts of their "deaths" to be published, have taken other names and have gone underground. Many more can be relied upon to adopt similar tactics. With many Nazi records destroyed on purpose or by Allied bombs, detection of these characters will be difficult.

In the circumstances there may be some truth in unconfirmed reports that Col. Melvin Purvis of the American Army has been assigned to head an international organization set up to track down Nazi war criminals now and after the war.

Justice demands considerably more than the hanging of Hitler, Himmler, Goebbels, Goering and a few other outstanding Nazi leaders. Thousands of others are responsible also for the Nazi war crimes record and must be made to pay the penalty. It will be a difficult task to ferret them out. But if Colonel Purvis heads the drive, there is little doubt that the job is in good hands.

Colonel Purvis is the former FBI agent who trapped John Dillinger, the notorious Midwest desperado of a decade ago. He has a reputation as a manhunter. All his talents will be needed in the manhunt he now is reported to have begun.

Canceled Insurance

Sweeping American naval victories in the Pacific have had one welcome and unexpected dividend in addition to the destruction inflicted on the Japanese and the speeding up of offensive schedules.

Only a few weeks ago the Navy announced a new construction program covering a new fleet of 84 warships of all categories. This part of the building program was intended as "insurance" against the possibility of heavy additional losses as the Pacific fleet closes in on Japan. But the need for the additional ships now seems so remote that the building program has been slashed 75 per cent to save manpower and steel for arms considered more essential.

The reasons for the reversal seem fairly clear. In the weeks since it was announced the Pacific fleet has dealt another crushing blow at what is left of the Japanese navy. The European war is hastening to a climax with unexpected speed, raising the possibility that all Allied naval strength can be concentrated in the Pacific before long.

Whatever led to the decision, the results are welcome. The saving of $750,000,000 is not to be sneezed at. Moreover, the cut-back will relieve the demand for steel which has been straining the capacity of the mills this year.

It should also be remembered that the warships which were cut off the construction list were a late addition to the overall naval building program which is going ahead at top speed. The United States is ready by far the largest Navy in the world and its superiority is steadily being increased both by new construction and the destruction of enemy ships.

Germany is down to its last oil refinery, which must be bad news for "A" ration drivers in the Reich.

The war to date has cost Uncle Sam $240,000,000,000 in what one perfectionist describes as oval numbers.

WASHINGTON CALLING

by MARQUIS CHILDS

Sees Necessity Of Postponing Conference

WASHINGTON, April 2.—If it were not obvious before, it is now perfectly clear that the San Francisco conference must be postponed. I say that knowing very well how extensive are the preparations already made for that convocation of statesmen.

It would have been difficult under any circumstances to reach an agreement in short of two weeks of debate. That debate would probably have occurred just as the war reached its climactic end.

Now with unhappy ineptitude comes the disclosure that Russia and the United States intend to ask for three votes each in the United Nations assembly. They agreed to that secretly at Yalta.

This decision by Stalin and Roosevelt multiplies all the objections raised against the Dumbarton Oaks proposal by the smaller powers. It seemed that they were being asked merely to ratify the decisions of the big four who would control the security council. That is what Foreign Minister Elco Van Kleffens of the Dutch government in London said more or less openly in his memorandum on the San Francisco conference.

Swing All Decisions
But with three votes each, Russia and the United States could swing all decisions on drafting commissions and on the special commissions to be created. I have talked with several diplomats from the smaller powers who express frank dismay at this latest turn of events.

Before the disclosure of the secret voting agreement at Yalta, the members of delegations from a minimum of six weeks at San Francisco and a maximum of eight weeks or longer. That would almost certainly make the conference coincide with the end of organized resistance in Germany.

What would happen then? Foreign Minister Anthony Eden would have to go back to London. So would the British delegation. So would the Belgian, Van Kleffens of Holland and all the other chairmen of delegations. They simply could not be out of Europe with decisions being taken that will shape the future for decades to come. In fact, they must leave to make these decisions.

How long the newest developments might be expected to prolong the debate no one can say. But certainly it will prolong it.

See Rallying Point
Delegates who will represent the secondary powers at San Francisco have regarded the Dutch memorandum as a rallying point for their own dissatisfaction with the way in which power is concentrated in the big four. One of the ambassadors, in an off-the-record talk, put it this way:

"We think the Van Kleffens memorandum went too far. Nevertheless, we intend to stand behind it to a point. Not let me say, to a point that would prevent any agreement at all being reached."

That was before the secret voting agreement bombshell was dropped. Today this same ambassador might feel even more strongly about the power tactics of the big three.

I have just been in France and I think I know what they are. They were deeply offended at not having been asked to participate in the final days of the Yalta conference when the fate of Germany was discussed. Then, supposedly, they were informed of all the decisions taken at Yalta. Now, according to a dispatch from Paris, Foreign Minister Bidault reads in the newspapers of the secret agreement.

Another Reason
There is still another reason for postponement. Russia has announced that her ambassador to Washington, Andrei Gromyko, will head the Soviet delegation rather than Foreign Minister Molotov or one of the other big names around Stalin.

This will almost certainly make for further delay. Whatever one may think of Gromyko's capacities as a diplomat—and his colleagues have high respect for him—he will not be able to say yes or no without consulting Moscow, and that takes time.

A perfect by good reason for postponement is written in the headlines that leap out of every newspaper. You cannot lay out the framework of a new world at the exact moment that the old one is in final collapse.

Put it off until midsummer or even early fall. Then the problems to be confronted will be much clearer. There will not be the same desperate urgency. And perhaps in that interval of time it will be possible to mend the serious damage done to confidence by the news of the secret agreement at Yalta.

SIMPLICITY
A good many people like food plain and not doped up much. Children and men usually prefer plain and simple food.

Girls and women are more likely to want it dressed up a little. A child usually prefers to eat an apple plain rather than to have it mixed with axle grease in a salad.

A boy will eat a lot of prunes while he is carrying them home from the store. When they are fixed up for the table he does not want them.

Perhaps it is a good idea to cater to their preferences a little. Give the boys their plain.

Let the girls have fancy salads fixed up with tissue paper and fancy stuff. Maybe they will eat more.

Why sell canned fruit at all? If it is sold honestly, one person has not enough points to buy one can of peaches a month.

"Well," countered his buddy, "you see, I only get $5 a week in cash and the rest is in legal advice."

MAKING FRIENDS
"I find it difficult to make friends. And as I near 30, my friends seem to become more and more scarce. When one is old, friends are invaluable. Can you give me advice on improving this situation?"

Answer: Circulate as much as possible among people, especially those who are congenial. Take advantage of every invitation offered—no matter on how short notice. Suppress any aloofness from which you may suffer. Do your best to "bring yourself out" conversationally. And punctuate your conversation with "you" instead of "I."

If you have a genuine interest in other people, they cannot help liking you. The "talkers" who keep up a constant buzz about the value of things they own and the expensive tours they have taken are socially short-lived.

I have a very dear and interesting friend who at a party recently met a schoolmate who with great circumspection went into the details of her travels and social contacts since they had previously met and then casually asked "Oh, not much" was the answer whereupon the ridiculous one later remarked to me:

The Parent Problem

By Garry C. Myers, Ph. D.

NEED FOR MORE TEACHERS SEEN

In many cities, towns and rural districts throughout the United States, our public schools have deteriorated since Pearl Harbor. In most school districts, even in those having a few or no war industries, many teachers have gone into other fields and left the classroom; and frequently they have never been replaced. Then children have merely been distributed among other classes.

Sometimes for want of wise, courageous school leadership there has been little or no effort to replace the resigning teacher, and a few school boards have welcomed the "opportunity to save public funds" at the expense of the children. I'm very sure that some school superintendents have not been fighting as they should for the children. Moreover, because of the war, parents as individuals or in civic groups like the PTA have generally been blind and deaf to what is happening in the schools to their children.

Large Classes
Even school heads who are trying valiantly to find teachers of as high grade as in peace days, and to have classes of reasonable size are unable to do so.

Many teachers who were trained many years ago and have had no training since, and others who have been issued war-emergency certificates. While some of these teachers do well, especially some of those who are mothers, they inevitably are of inferior quality, on the average.

In the face of these facts the number of children assigned to the average elementary class is appalling. I have visited a number of classes with 45, 50, 60, or more children in a number of small and large cities in several different states recently. In one large city the elementary principals are instructed to close any class which has fewer than 40 children and distribute these children among the other classes of the building, "to save a teacher."

What a picture is very dark for the children. Over all America the standard of teacher training colleges has dropped from a quarter to a half or more, which means there will be a great shortage of properly trained teachers for a number of years.

Parents Could Help
It's all very well to say it patriotic for teachers to remain on the job with the children and for young women and returning veterans to enter the teaching profession. But when most teachers' earnings in business or industry, we might ask ourselves, "What price patriotism?"

Why don't PTAs right now fight for the children and hold up the hands of those valiant superintendents who are fighting to guarantee a salary which will hold and attract a high-grade teacher; and start a fire under those other superintendents who are ready to surrender without firing a shot.

If enough parents really cared, children would have the kind of public schools they deserve. There is lots of money now. But what will happen after the war when some influential person who don't rank the rights of children very high starts looking around for places to cut taxes? They will take it from the children first, cut on our public schools. Yes, they will, unless parents say it isn't to be done, but that "economics" will have to be effected elsewhere.

RESULT OF HITLERISM
It would be interesting, from a psychological point of view, to know what the mass of German people think they are fighting for. The Nazi propaganda machine undoubtedly has "sold" them on the idea that unconditional surrender means their enslavement or perhaps slaughter at the hands of the victors. A people aware of the mass atrocities practiced by the Nazi leaders might believe that a similar fate awaits them in defeat. But those who think of themselves must know that their ultimate fate in following Hitler's "last man" orders cannot be anything but death. They have at least a chance of survival under conquest, for the old saying holds: good even in war—while there is life there is hope.

The plain truth is that the Germans are fishing to save the necks of Hitler and his Nazi cohorts. Military commentators generally agree that Nazi strategy probably will be to abandon Germany as a whole and the invaders and make a last stand in the south. The civilian masses will be preserved and left to the mercy of their conquerors. But the army will fight on and on to ultimate extermination. Meanwhile the Nazi leaders will have more time to salvage their personal fortunes and arrange their flight.

To an American it seems strange that either the civilian or military population would be so glibly as to throw away their lives in such a cause. Evidently we do not understand German mass psychology or appreciate the fear instilled by the Hitler and Himmlers. The people of the ill-fated country are being subjected to the most colossal selfish, most little sacrifice in all history.

The average German today is limited to one egg a month. This gives him 29 to 30 days to ponder over whether he wants it fried, boiled or scrambled.

Question: How shall I address a wedding gift that must be sent after the wedding?

Answer: Whether the gift is sent before or after the wedding, it should be addressed to the bride.

Frisco Conference Homecoming For Bloom
Eisenhower's Talks To Germany Effective
Rising Real Estate Prices Alarm Bowles

By HELEN ESSARY (Central Press Columnist)

WASHINGTON, April 2.—The San Francisco United Nations conference will be a "homecoming" for Representative Sol Bloom (D) of New York, who at 75 years of age is one of the most active members of Congress.

Bloom, chairman of the House foreign affairs committee, celebrated his 75th birthday a few days ago. And now he is looking forward to his first visit to San Francisco in 30 years, as one of the congressional delegates to the international conference. Sol roamed the streets of New York as a boy and boasts that he is probably the only man in the country who can recite the newsboy's cry of that earlier day when there was something like nine newspapers competing in the Golden Gate City.

Eisenhower Speaks German
With the capture of more than 1,000,000 Germans by the Allied forces in western Europe since D-Day, military observers credit a major part of this feat to Gen. Dwight D. Eisenhower's ability to speak German.

Since the Norman invasion, able, diplomatic "Ike" Eisenhower has gone on the radio periodically to ask the German people in their own language to give up because they cannot win and by continuing fighting they are only prolonging their own misery.

Washington military quarters feel that although Eisenhower has only directed his surrender appeals to German officers and officials, he decided to give up rather than go on fighting.

The United States has undertaken—as part of its lend-lease operations—to rehabilitate two foreign navies—Chinese and French.

In aiding the Chinese, the American government has started from scratch for eight years of war with Japan has seen the Chinese navy virtually disappear. It has undertaken the task of training 1,000 Chinese to serve as the nucleus of a new post-war Chinese navy.

The French navy is still formidable despite the ravages of more than five years of war but must be re-equipped before it can become a really effective Allied force. Some 15 million dollars is being expended for furnishing the entire clothing requirements of the French navy.

Shutdown On Wages
V-Day will bring a shutdown between the AFL and the CIO over continuation of government wage controls.

The older, more established AFL wants to do away with government handling of labor relations and permit a resumption of free collective bargaining when American goes down.

Federation spokesmen claim, however, that the CIO has shown its intention to take an opposite stand. They insist their rivals desire continued government support in settling disputes and making wage contracts.

If the Office of Price Administration is successful in its efforts to get authority to do something about the rising prices of real estate—farm and urban—it may mean money in your pocket.

OPA Boss Chester Bowles says his agency is alarmed about a jump of 40 to 60 per cent in real estate costs during war-time and from other government sources have come figures indicating that these prices have doubled in some sections.

Anyway, Bowles says it is a serious situation which is putting pressure on the whole price control structure and should be brought under control. It has not been decided just how the job would be

WEATHER MAN COMES THROUGH

Easter Weather Conditions Were About As Pleasing As Possible This Year

This was one Easter when the weather man was squaring on his own without any crystal ball gazing from us. As a result, the Easter day was well nigh perfect, the sun did a noble job and the temperature was up to a point where mildness could show off her finery to the best advantage.

In previous years we have been wont to suggest on the day before Easter that the weather would be 1-clear, 2-warm, 3-dry. So what happened? Usually the W. M. crossed us up by dropping the temperature to a point where winter flannels were what the best dressed young man was wearing and the rain rained a lot of skimmers and dispositions.

But not this year. If you read The News on Saturday you may recall we said we would make no prognostication although the indications pointed to a fine day.

It certainly foxed the W. M. If he sent rain he wouldn't have been coppering our bet, and if it was warm, again the credit was all his. Apparently he does not follow Omar Khayyam who once put out with a crack something like this, "Ah take the cash and let the credit go."

OKINAWA
With the invasion of Okinawa, the U. S. 10th Army is tackling the toughest and largest task in a chain of island fortifications Japan has been building in defense of her homeland since the Japanese seized the Ryukyu group in 1879, over China's protest.

But the landings on the western shore of Okinawa places the vanguard of American avenging armies on the very threshold of Japan, for the island lies only 325 miles from the Japanese home land. Conquered Iwo Jima, far to the east, nearly twice the distance from Japan proper.

Capture of Okinawa would sever Japan's empire shipping route to the south and west. South China lies only 400 miles away, and without Okinawa Japan would lose her last vestige of domination over the China sea.

Chinese invasions of Okinawa and other islands of the Ryukyu chain date back to A. D. 605, but the islands were never annexed by China and it was not until 1372 that her supremacy over them was recognized. In 1609, after the inhabitants refused to help Japan fight the Koreans, the Japanese invaded the islands, and for a time thereafter the islands paid tribute to both China and Japan.

Finally in 1879 the Japanese declared Okinawa and her sister islands a part of the Japanese empire. China protested and plenipotentiaries of the two countries signed an agreement dividing the islands equally between China and Japan. The Chinese government never ratified this compromise, but the Japanese have held firm control over the islands ever since.

Tuesday's meeting in the Castle on at 2 p. m. will be addressed by Dr. Leon S. Marshall, history professor at Westminster college. He will speak on the coming peace conference at San Francisco, April 25. Dr. Marshall is a keen student of history and kept up to the minute on international affairs. He will give an analysis of what may happen at this conference. On Wednesday noon the Lions club members will join with the Kiwanis club when they entertain the heroes of Bastogne.

Communist Faction In China Wants To Buy War Material

Ambassador Hurley Opposes Request Of Communist Party In China

WASHINGTON, April 2.—(INS)—Maj. Gen. Patrick J. Hurley, American ambassador to China, disclosed today that the Communist faction in China has asked for arms and military equipment from the United States.

Hurley, at a news conference, stated his opposition to granting the request and it was generally assumed in Washington that a negative answer had been given by his government.

The furnishing of arms to a political party within China, Hurley said, would be equivalent to recognizing that party as a belligerent. Instead, we have recognized the National government of China and have steadfastly given it economic, military and political support.

No political unification is impossible in China, Hurley said, as long as there are armed political parties and war lords who are still strong enough to defy the national government.

Purple Heart Winner Designs Wedding Gown

NEW YORK, April 2.—(INS)—A wedding gown designed by a GI fighting in Italy where he recently was awarded the Purple Heart was the highlight of the season's most unusual fashion show, held in New York's Hotel Biltmore.

His contribution was part of a style show staged by the Traphagen School of Fashion, New York City, featuring clothes created by men in the armed forces, former students of Traphagen. The garments were all made up in the school's clothing construction department from sketches sent back by the GI designers now serving in the four corners of the world.

Good Explanation On Secret Voting Agreement Likely

Such Is Opinion Of Mrs. Eleanor Roosevelt At News Conference At White House Today

By MARTHA KEARNEY
(U. S. Staff Correspondent)

WASHINGTON, April 2. — Mrs. Eleanor Roosevelt declared today that she is confident "a perfectly good explanation" will be forthcoming for the so-called secret voting agreements made at Yalta and urged the people to have a little "trust" in their leaders.

At the same time she told her news conference that the disclosure of differences on the voting procedure in the proposed United Nations assembly make it all the more necessary to hold the San Francisco security conference on schedule. The conference is to open on April 25.

"You find very few things stay secret long," the first lady said of the voting agreement. "I feel quite sure that some day a perfectly good explanation will be given. I think you have to trust people a little bit."

Concerning reports that the conference might be postponed in an effort to work out some of the differences in advance, Mrs. Roosevelt had this to say:

"It will get a great deal of talk out of the way and into the open. The conference is not merely being held for ministers of foreign affairs—it is also being held for the people so that they can be informed. The fact that there are differences and that the people are expressing different points of view are good reasons for having the conference."

ADJUST PLOWS BEFORE STARTING SPRING JOB

No farm operation gives as much satisfaction as a good job of plowing, and since plowing requires a considerable expenditure of time and power, the plow should be properly adjusted before starting the spring plowing. Only with proper adjustment can the plow do the best possible job under existing conditions.

Proper alignment of the plow bottom is the first essential, especially on a multiple-bottom plow. Poor alignment results in uneven ridges, poor trash coverage, increased draft, and rapid wear of the plow point. Mis-alignment may result from a sprung beam, sprung frog or combination of both. The plow bottom should be checked for both vertical and horizontal alignment.

The rear furrow wheel should be adjusted to provide proper heel clearance. Farmers interested in obtaining best results and reducing wear in plow operations can obtain a copy of Circular 259, "Plow Adjustment," at the Agricultural Extension Office, No. 206 Post Office Building, New Castle.

LAMB CREEP ASSURES GOOD GROWING RATIONS

Lambs dropped before mid-April should have access to grain and should be provided with a creep where ewes are not able to get through. A separate hayrack filled with second cutting alfalfa for the lambs will also help put more weight on them.

By use of the creep, the lambs should be provided with equal parts of crushed corn and whole oats, with 10 per cent soybean oil or linseed oil meal added. This makes splendid feed for the lambs. By providing the lambs with good rations, they will develop faster, and produce better profits for the sheep growers.

Plans for making a lamb creep can be obtained at the Agricultural Extension Office, by asking for circular 147, entitled "Sheep Management".

MENDING IS EASY WITH SEWING MACHINE DARN

Do you make your sewing machine work for you? If you haven't discovered how much more than ordinary sewing it can do, try using the sewing machine to help do the family mending.

With a little practice, you will soon get the knack of making a machine mend so you can mend a three-cornered tear in five minutes. What a saving of time this would be when you have a half dozen or more such mends! Chances are the machine mend will be neater and better looking than a hand mend.

Machine darning is done by stitching backward and forward across the worn place or tear. You can stitch backward and forward on any sewing machine. To do this, quickly lift the presser foot just enough to release the material when stitching backward and move the material backward at the same rate of speed as when the presser foot is down, bringing material forward in order to have stitches of the same size.

Thread the machine with mercerized thread, using thread that matches or is slightly darker than the material. Adjust the length of the stitch to suit the cloth; a good rule for wool is 8 to 10 stitches to the inch. Trim the hole in the garment to make it square or oblong shaped. Place a piece of matching material, at least a half inch larger all around the hole, under the hole. Machine darn a quarter-inch in on each side of the raw edge. Be sure to start in the center of the square so that all corners will be equally strong.

Machine darning may be used on tears, holes, and thin places in dresses, underwear, aprons, men's and boy's clothing, sheets, tablecloths, bath towels, and many other articles that are in need of mending. It is a quick and easy way to mend and the time saved may be used for other household activities or relaxation.

'Now We Can Attack In Any Direction'

No Place To Go But Forward At Bastogne When Germans Surrounded 101st

Here in New Castle we were thinking of Christmas on December 20, 1944. Thinking of the presents that had to be wrapped and the presents we had to buy. Around Bastogne in Belgium, the 101st Airborne Division of the American army had something else to think about. The Germans had closed in from four sides.

Informed of the plight of his outfit, Lt. Col. Paul Darby said "now we can attack in any direction." The men of the 101st hung on, determined to hold the strategic rail junction and on December 26 some of General Patton's tanks crashed through the German ring and rescued the 101st.

The men themselves can tell a more vivid story of the siege of Bastogne probably and on Wednesday, April 4, we will have an opportunity of hearing them tell it for six of them are coming to New Castle on a two-day visit of essential plants.

They will arrive Wednesday morning and from then on until late Thursday their schedule is filled with engagements.

Report 100,000 German Troops Caught In Trap

By LEE CARSON
(U. S. Staff Correspondent)

WITH U. S. FIRST ARMY FORCES IN GERMANY, April 2.—An estimated 100,000 German troops lunged frantically today at a wall of solid steel encasing the entire Ruhr valley from the Rhine east of Paderborn as two of Hitler's last full-strength armies on the western front tried to escape from a leak-proof trap.

The American first army now is 200 miles from Berlin. The juncture of the American first and ninth armies at Lippstadt, which sealed off the Ruhr, the last great industrial vein pumping life into the Hitler forces, was made at 3:30 p. m. Sunday at the third armored division task force commanded by Lt. Col. Matthew W. Kane of Des Moines, Iowa, after establishing radio contact late Saturday.

Two Armies Caught
A first army news blackout quelled the resounding clamor of the steel gates of the two German armies caught in a 4,000 square mile frontal but it was known that the ninth army's second armored combat command led by a Col. Hinds of Nashville, Tenn., met the driving column at Lippstadt, 18 miles west of Paderborn.

Linking of the two armies completes a ring of steel choking off the Ruhr and the German 15th and fifth panzer armies, supplemented by an estimated 25,000 anti-aircraft battery personnel, service troops and medics.

The Germans trapped in the Ruhr pocket were trying desperately to punch their way out of the ring of steel thrown around them by the first and ninth armies. Enemy forces were counter-attacking viciously in the vicinity of Siegen on the Sieg river, and south of Paderborn in the area of Neidenburg. Other forces were thrusting futilely against the ninth army wall at Beckum.

The only closely-knit organized resistance was being met in the densely populated heart of the Ruhr east of Duesseldorf and in the vicinity of Essen, Bochum and Dortmund.

Those qualifying for ASTRP will be enlisted in the Enlisted Reserve Corps, Army of the United States, for the duration of the war plus six months. Sgt. Jeanette Sheets, WAC recruiter and Corp. Louise Medaille of the WAC recruiting office, will have charge of recruitment.

Major J. B. Barrett Arrives On Leave

Local Physician Home On Two Weeks Leave From Southwest Pacific Area

Major J. B. Barrett, local physician and member of the U. S. medical Corps, arrived home to spend a two weeks' leave with his family on 126 Fairfield avenue, following 15-months of service on a troop transport ship in the Southwest Pacific area.

Major Barrett is in excellent health, and reports that the morale and spirit of the fighting boys in the Pacific area very high. Major Barrett has been in service for 31 months, and for two years has been on sea duty, as surgeon on a troop transport ship. While in the Pacific area, he met only several boys from the local area.

At the conclusion of his leave, Major Barrett will depart for San Francisco, Calif., and from there will again resume his duties on a troop transport ship, somewhere in the Southwest Pacific.

RECEIVE INSURANCE CHECK
The County Commissioners have received from the Aetna Casualty and Security company a check for $306.47 which represents the refund due the county from the boiler insurance policy canceled by the County Commissioners recently. Subsequently a new policy was purchased from another company.

In presenting the check the local agents for the company stated that the cancellation of the policy when it was not quite half through had cost the county about $207.23.

PRESENTS COUNTY'S POSITION
County Treasurer Frank W. Hill on Saturday answered the recent letter of City Solicitor Robert M. White to the County Commissioners in which he threatened legal action if the county sold for delinquent taxes a property in the eighth ward owned by the city. The city solicitor said the lot was in the bed of the Big Run and had been used for public purposes for years.

In his statement concerning the case, Treasurer Hill said: "The lot in question is lot 148 in section 66, located on Gardner avenue. This lot was the property of the Carnegie-Illinois Steel company and the school taxes for 1941 are delinquent. The school board filed the tax lien as it always does in such cases. In 1942 the Carnegie-Illinois Steel company decided the lot to the City of New Castle, but nothing was done to clear the tax claim of the school board for 1941."

"The lien is and has been a matter of record for some time, and acting under the law I have included it with many others for treasurer's sale late this month."

"City Solicitor White knows what the legal remedy for this situation is. Either he can request the school board to cancel its lien or he can make exceptions to the confirmation of the sale by the court."

"This case is no different than hundreds of others. The taxes were unpaid, the school board placed a lien against the property, and as county treasurer I am required by law to sell the property at a treasurer's sale. I am merely following the law and the custom of the treasurer's office."

"Neither myself nor the County Commissioners can remove this property from the sale list. The city solicitor can be asking the school board to cancel its lien."

MUST NOT INTERFERE
Before Judge W. Walter Braham Saturday morning a petition of Harold M. Hutchison was heard in which he asks that the court restrain his wife, Ethel M. Hutchison, of Youngstown, O., from coming to New Castle and endeavoring to take away four of the couple's children who are with the father. The petitioner testified that he had been informed his wife was planning to do such a thing.

The case was a rather unusual one in that it deals with a citizen of another state. Judge Braham allowed the petition and if Mrs. Hutchison now comes to New Castle and takes any of the children back to Youngstown she will be in contempt of court.

Pvt. James Church, Missing Since Last June, Listed As Dead

Local Soldier Believed Killed At St. Lo, Letter From Commanding General To Parents States

Pvt. James Church, son of Mr. and Mrs. Wayne E. Church, of 217 Bluff street, who was reported initially on July 23, 1944, as having been wounded in action, on June 18, 1944 and on January 12, 1945 as being missing in action, is now listed by the War Department as having been killed on June 18, 1944.

The circumstances which were responsible for this puzzling question about his fate, are related in a letter received Friday from his commanding general. In the meantime, the family received a telegram on March 22 from the Adjutant General stating that he had been listed as killed in action. The information was received in response to numerous inquiries made by the family when they received no further word from their son.

According to the Commanding General of the 29th division, with which he was serving, the circumstances were listed as follows: On the date of June 18, 1944, his company was advancing across a grain field at St. Lo, France, when Pvt. Church was wounded. Instead of waiting for the medical men of his regiment to take care of him, he started for the nearest dressing station, became confused in the directions, and was last seen, heading for the enemy lines. It was too late to warn him of his predicament, or to try and get him to return. He never appeared at the dressing station, collecting station, or hospital, his Commanding General states and any further word received by the War Department, will be passed on properly. This letter was written on March 4.

Pvt. Church was born November 7, 1924, and was 19 years of age when he met his death. He and his brother, William, enlisted in the Paratroops and later was sent to the infantry, and assigned to the 29th division, training at Camp Blanding, Fla. While he never received a furlough, he was stationed at Camp Reynolds while awaiting call for overseas, and visited his home on pass. He went overseas June 1, 1943, and landed on the Normandy beach-head on D-Day.

He has two brothers in service. Pvt. William Church with the M. P. Detachment at Fort Benning, Ga.; and John Paul Church, S 2-C, now somewhere in the Pacific.

In addition, he has two sisters and a brother, Lealla, Evelyn, and Gary Lee Church, at home.

Don Bolt Will Speak Tuesday

News Analyst And Commentator
Will Be Last Speaker Of Season
On Executives Club Program

DON BOLT

Before he was fairly started in high school, Don Bolt, news analyst and radio commentator, who is to be guest speaker of the New Castle Executives club at their last dinner meeting of the season, in The Castleton, Tuesday evening, had gone through the experience of being "Shanghaied" during his first adventure as a youth in the service of the British Merchant Marine.

It took an American consul to get him released and back to his home in Indiana.

Since then he has been a reporter, an advertising man, radio commentator, and news analyst. He has traveled 100,000 miles in the Western Hemisphere in the last three years in a survey of inter-American affairs.

His subject of the evening will be "The Third World War", and should evoke considerable food for thought.

Election of officers for the coming year will take place at this meeting.

LIVE SPECIMENS

PORTLAND, Ore. — (INS)—Lt. (jg) K. P. Sullivan, naval torpedo bomber pilot visiting his folks in Portland told of capturing some live specimens when he went souvenir-hunting for the usual battle-flags and sabres after the battle on Saipan. Two Japanese stragglers appeared and surrendered to Sullivan which made it strictly a beyond-the-line-of-duty job for the American who was just strolling the island for relaxation and looking for souvenirs.

TO THE PEOPLE OF PENNSYLVANIA:

A serious shortage of paper exists in the United States. Waste paper is critically needed for the manufacture of thousands of articles of war supplies, as well as for containers for blood plasma, drugs, food and munitions for the armed services overseas.

Pennsylvania's manufacturers of paper and paperboard have been forced to shut down their plants from time to time in recent weeks for lack of waste paper.

Many months ago the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania officially inaugurated a conservation and salvage program which has resulted in the saving of thousands of tons of paper and the salvaging of more than 4,000 tons of waste paper by State departments, boards and institutions under the Governor.

The Salvage Committee of the State Council of Defense and the Conservation and Salvage Division of the War Production Board, in an effort to make the greatest and most necessary use of the scant supplies of paper now in the stocks of Pennsylvania's industries, merchants and business houses, have requested the voluntary observance of a Paper Holiday throughout the State for the period of two months, beginning April 1, 1945.

To aid in bringing about a speedy victory by our armed forces, I heartily concur in this program and do hereby declare a Paper Holiday for the months of April and May, 1945, in and for the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania.

The Commonwealth of Pennsylvania will continue to conserve paper in every possible way, and to salvage all waste paper. We hereby call upon all patriotic citizens of this Commonwealth to conserve the use of paper of all kinds, to carry merchandise unwrapped, and to save and turn in to local salvage collections all newspapers, magazines, bags, wrapping paper, cartons, boxes, cereal and cigarette containers and clean waste basket paper of every kind for the war salvage program. Your waste paper may save some brave boy's life.

Very sincerely,

Edward Martin
Governor of Pennsylvania

MARCH 15, 1945

Major General Edward Martin, Wartime Governor of Pennsylvania, Declares a

PAPER HOLIDAY

throughout April and May

WHAT IS A PAPER HOLIDAY? During April and May, retail merchants and the public will have the opportunity to practice statewide cooperation in relieving the critical paper situation. Merchants will use no bags or wrapping paper except where absolutely necessary for sanitary and protective purposes. Customers will carry their purchases unwrapped and provide their own shopping bags.

WHY HAVE A PAPER HOLIDAY? Well over 50 percent of our paper production goes to our armed forces as containers for blood plasma, rations and ammunition, and as other vitally needed war items. This year we face a shortage of some 3,000,000 tons of paper. America can and will meet this shortage — by salvaging 2,000,000 tons and by conserving 1,000,000 tons of paper.

IT'S EVERYBODY'S PAPER HOLIDAY! Every man, woman and child in Pennsylvania — the State Government, industry, business — merchants, housewives, and school children — everyone must help in this national emergency! "It is absolutely essential that every citizen of this country take immediate steps to reduce the amount of paper consumed by him and his family as drastically, if not more drastically, than we have already reduced our gasoline, our travel, our meats and canned foods!" declared W. T. Hoyt, Director of the Conservation and Salvage Division of the War Production Board.

DON'T BURN ANY PAPER — SALVAGE IT! As Governor Martin points out, waste paper may save some brave boy's life — maybe your boy! Separate and tie in bundles: 1. Waste basket scraps. 2. Corrugated boxes, brown paper and bags. 3. Magazines and books. 4. Newspapers. Save every old cigarette package, letters and envelopes. Clean out the dead files in your office. Save every scrap of paper — turn it all in for salvage!

WASTE PAPER COLLECTIONS IN PENNSYLVANIA. Regular waste paper collections take place in every Pennsylvania community under the direction of the Salvage Committees of County and Local Councils of Defense. In many places they receive the assistance of the Boy Scouts, the Society of the 28th Division, Rural Mail Carriers, Schools, Boys' Clubs, Charities, Service Clubs, Junior Chambers of Commerce and Waste Material Dealers. Money received from selling donated waste paper is used locally in each community for war purposes, charities, hospitals, other worthy projects and to buy little extras for wounded veterans.

PENNSYLVANIA'S GOAL—66,000 TONS A MONTH! Every person in Pennsylvania must turn in an average of 13½ pounds of waste paper each month to meet our State Quota. It isn't much to ask — a stack of newspapers as high as a broomstick weighs 100 pounds! But it must be done to keep Pennsylvania's paper mills operating full time to supply our fighting men. Every time you see a scrap of paper, remember — over 700,000 vital war items are made or wrapped with paper! Conserve paper — salvage paper — for Victory!

DON'T BURN ANY PAPER—SALVAGE IT!

JAPANESE KILL SOLDIERS WHO OFFER TO QUIT

Prefer Death To Surrender In Saipan Fight, Report Of Marine Correspondent

By DAVID DEMPSEY
(Marine Corps Combat Correspondent)

SAIPAN, Marianas Islands, (Delayed). (INS)—Panama. Japanese, fighting to the bitter end on Saipan, not only preferred hara-kiri to surrender, but killed their brothers in arms rather than let them go.

An experience related by Second Lieut. Howard M. Moss, 23, of 1252 Waverly Place, Elizabeth, N. J., an Army Japanese language interpreter attached to a Marine regiment, demonstrates the fantastic end to which Japanese military "honor" will go.

A Marine patrol, led by Capt. William Weinstein, of 3209 West Chicago Blvd., Detroit, discovered several Jap soldiers in a cave. Moss, who was with the patrol, endeavored to get them to surrender by promising good treatment, food, and medical care. His pleas were of no avail.

A 37-mm. cannon was then brought up to the cave and 30 rounds of canister shot fired into it. The answer was several grenade explosions within.

A tank then fired six rounds of 75-mm. cannon into the cave. Still no one surrendered, although voices inside indicated that many of the Japs were still alive.

Japs Kill Own Men
A machine gun and Browning Automatic rifles then sprayed the opening. Finally, two Jap Navy petty officers and an army first lieutenant emerged with their hands up.

The officer asked the interpreter if they were to be killed or allowed to live. If it was the former, he said they preferred to go back in the cave and fight it out.

When Lieut. Moss assured them that Americans did not kill their prisoners, the officers persuaded 34 soldiers to surrender.

At this point a Jap machine-gun hidden under a ledge across the ravine, opened up. Before the bewildered prisoners could get to safety, 20 of them were killed. The machine gun was knocked out by an American half-track.

One Jap Survives
Marines then returned to the cave to urge the remaining Japanese to give up. When they refused, a satchel charged with high explosives was set off.

When the cave was searched the next day, according to Lieut. Moss, a single Jap soldier, badly wounded, was still living. He begged to be killed.

Marines took him to a field hospital, where doctors said he would live.

Williamsburg, Virginia, was settled as Middle Plantation in 1633, as an outpost palisade against the Indians.

Sinkwich Voted Most Valuable In Pro Leagues

Former All-American From Georgia Nudges Don Hutson For Honors

CRIPPLED FRANKIE SETS UP RECORDS

By BILL COLLINS
(International News Service Sports Writer)
CHICAGO, April 2.—(INS)—Frankie Sinkwich, the Detroit Lions' invalid triple-threat quarterback, today was named the National Football League's most valuable player for the 1944 season.

Sinkwich just nudged out Don Hutson, the Green Bay Packers' veteran end, in the balloting of a committee of newspaper men.

The Georgia All-American and Hutson, who won the award and the Joe F. Carr trophy that goes with it in 1944 and again in 1942, split 12 of the 17 first place votes, but the former was named on four second place ballots and Hutson on only three.

Despite his flat fee, heart murmur and high blood pressure, Sinkwich was the brains and brawn of the Lions.

Hard-Running Back

Frankie developed into one of the hardest running backs in the league, dethroned Sammy Baugh as the league punting champion, finished second behind Hutson in scoring with 66 points, and was third in ball carrying with 563 yards in 150 attempts. Frankie rated fourth in punt returns and sixth in passing. Sinkwich completed 38 of 148 passes for 1060 yards and 12 touchdowns. And he kicked 24 points after touchdowns, and two field goals. All this is an era of specialization.

Hutson, as usual, led the league in pass receiving—58 for 866 yards—and scoring—85 points.

The other players who received first place votes were Bill Paschal, the league's leading ground gainer the past two seasons, and Ward Cuff, both of the New York Giants; Roy Zimmerman, quarterback for the Philadelphia Eagles; Johnny Grigas, fullback for the Card-Pitt combination; and Frank Filchock, the Washington Redskins' passing champion.

Waner Arrives In Camp Of Pirates

MUNCIE, Ind., April 2.—(INS)—A scener fight for Pirate outfield posts was in store today with the arrival of "Little Poison" Waner, who donned a Buc uniform for his 19th season. Meanwhile acquisition of Al Gerbeauser brought the hurling staff to a strength of 12, four of them southpaws. Max Butcher, veteran right hander, set down the Fort Wayne Electric team yesterday with two hits, to win 11 to 2.

Gersons Beaten In Tourney At Sharon

Beaver Falls Defeats Gersons, 48 To 27; Erie Russians Win Tourney

Gersons basketball team was defeated 48 to 27 in the quarter-finals of the eighth annual Sharon amateur tourney at the Sharon Hotel club Saturday. It was announced today by Eddie "Coach" Nahas.

The Beaver Falls team was made up of Willford, Kennedy, Boller and James of the Beaver Falls High team and McComb and Cable of the Geneva college quintet. McComb and Grimes were the stars in the game.

In the semi-finals the Beaver Falls team lost to the Sharon Lions team and Sharon in turn lost to the Erie Russians 33 to 24. Sharon had Admiral Nemetz, Butenko and others of Sharon High fame in the lineup. Brentwood won the consolation prize, defeating the Beaver Falls team 42 to 21.

Byron Nelson Wins Tourney At Durham

DURHAM, N. C., April 2.—(INS)—Byron Nelson, the Great, headed today for Atlanta for the wind-up of the winter golf season, not only with first money in the Durham $5,000 open, but with two new records as well.

The masterly Toledoan came down the home stretch yesterday with a 5-under-par 65 on the final round to set a new competitive record for the Hope Valley Country club course.

The victory was his seventh of the winter campaign and made him the first pro ever to win this series of tournaments in one season.

He was trailing Tony Penna of Dayton, O., and Leonard Dodson of San Francisco by one stroke at the half-way mark, but when the shooting was over his total of 276 for the 72 holes, 4 under par, was 5 strokes better than Penna's 281, the runner-up score, and 6 better than Jim Gaunt of Ardmore, Okla., could do.

Pittsburgh Fight Card Is Arranged

PITTSBURGH, April 2.—(INS)—Two bouts with a boxer pitted against a slugger are on the card announced today for next Monday night at Pittsburgh's Duquesne Gardens.

Phil Muscato, Buffalo slugger, will meet Nate Bolden, fast-stepping Chicago Negro in one 10-rounder, while in another, Curtis "Hatchet Man" Sheppard, Pittsburgh heavyweight, will turn his sights on Park Daniels, of New York, who has a reputation for displaying their finer points of the fistfight game.

The Shenango Valley club captured four of five places in the field of 15 in the 13-inch class. There were 11 dogs in the 15-inch derby.

The gallery and owners were pleased with the judging of William Dawson, Beaver Falls and Roy Montgomery, East Liverpool.

The other results: 13-inch class: second, Meadow Brook Ringer, owner, W. Strouse, Ellwood City; third, Little Miss Irish, owner Bert Miles, Wampum; fourth, Echo Dell, Sport, owner, Frank Shubert, New Castle and reserve, Ellwood Betty, owner, J. C. Wilkison, New Castle.

15-inch class: second, Pine Hollow Pleasure, owner, C. H. Schwartz, Emlenton, third, Sunny Avenue Sal, owner, J. C. Wilkison, New Castle; fourth, Patagonia Smoke, owner, Howard Pyle, Sharpsville and reserve, Hone's Nifty, owner, Howard Pyle, Sharpsville.

DODGERS TRIP MONTREAL

BEAR MOUNTAIN, N. Y., April 2.—(INS)—The Brooklyn Dodgers were scheduled to play Army at West Point today, after administering a 6-5 defeat yesterday to Brooklyn's Montreal farm club. The Bums registered 10 hits to Montreal's seven and finished the game with only one error chalked up against them.

GIANTS NUDGE YANKS

ATLANTIC CITY, N. J., April 2.—(INS)—The New York Giants today chalked up a 5-1 victory over the Yankees, scored yesterday at Bader Field in the Giants' first 1945 game with a major league opponent. Hurlers Bill Voiselle and Loren Baum held the Yanks to seven hits, opposed by Hank Borowy and Rookie Ken Holcombe.

SPRING MUSHROOMS

Ask a Mycologist—that's a nut on fungi—how to tell the difference between a mushroom and a "toad-stool" and he'll probably change the subject forthwith. He doesn't want you to join the ranks of those who have been killed or made ill by eating poisonous mushrooms, there's no simple rule of thumb by which you can distinguish between most innocent appearing, death-dealing varieties and those that are harmless and palatable.

Nevertheless there are many several species that not only are good to eat but are so easily and certainly identified that no one can go wrong on them unless he's both blindfolded and lacks a sense of touch. Study pictures of the ink cap, its big brother the shaggy mane, and of the morel in a good mushroom book, which you can examine at your public library, and go out and gather a mess of 'em. It's as easy as that.

Be Sure Of Em

But if you're still doubtful read the descriptions carefully, and before you try them the first time, have someone who knows identify the mushrooms for you. Henceforth you'll feel perfectly safe about the whole thing. But until you learn a lot more about mycology don't eat any of the other species on your own initiative.

Chances are you've kicked over dozens of edible ink caps and shaggy manes, probably around trees in your own back yard. Fried in butter, if you can get it, they're as good eating as the better known agaricus, the sort you buy at your fruit store, though they don't appear as inviting when prepared for the table. Both ink cap and shaggy mane exude an inky secretion while cooking that doesn't detract an iota from their excellent flavor. They flourish in the spring and throughout the summer, during moist weather, on any fairly good sandy loam soil and they're not confined to distant woods or pastures. In fact they seem to favor a civilized environment.

Looks Like Sponge

The morel, spring mushroom, or sponge mushroom, as the latter name implies, looks like a sponge and is as different in appearance from any poisonous variety of which I know as night is from day. Morels put in their appearance in early spring pushing up damp leaves in the woods or sprouting overnight under hedges and in sheltered fence corners. Don't ask your mushroom-minded friends if they know where there's a stand of them, because when a fungus hound once locates a bed of morels he guards the secret with his life.

ORVAL GROVE SIGNS

TERRE HAUTE, Ind., April 2.—(INS)—With the capitulation of Pitcher Orval Grove, the Chicago White Sox today practically were at full strength. There still were a few absentees, but they were detained by the press of what they considered more important business.

TECHNICIAN AWARD FOR SGT. HARCAR

(Special To The News)
HAMILTON FIELD, Calif.—The award of an Airplane Mechanic Technician's badge to Staff Sgt. Andrew E. Harcar, Jr., for proficiency in the performance of duties has been announced by the Hamilton field base unit of the Air Transport Command's west coast wing.

Sgt. Harcar, who entered the army on December 30, 1941, is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Andrew Harcar of 410 Leasure avenue, New Castle, Pa.

There has not been a year since 1926 that Soccer Coach Bill Jeffery has not produced at least one all-America player at Penn State.

Race Tracks Are Ready To Resume When 'Ban' Lifts

End Of European War Will Be Signal For Lifting Of Ban On Horse Racing

RACE FOLLOWERS ARE OVERJOYED

CHICAGO, April 2.—(INS)—"We're set to go as soon as the flag falls," Chicago race track executives said today of War Mobilizer James E. Byrnes' announcement that the ban on racing would be lifted with the ending of the war in Europe.

John L. Keeshin, president of the half-mile track, Sportsman's Park, said he was ready to start on the scheduled opening date, April 28. "If our armies in Europe continue their present pace,"

Call Meeting Today
Maj. Edwy Williams, chairman of the Illinois racing board and president of the National Association of State Racing Commissioners, called a meeting for noon today of the board and the operators of the five Chicago tracks to discuss plans for the season.

Besides Sportsman's, these are Arlington Park, Washington Park, Hawthorne and Lincoln Fields.

Keeshin opened this track to horsemen some six weeks ago and more than 200 thoroughbreds are stabled there. He said:

"While the statement from Washington was quite a surprise, the joy it brought to the men and boys of the grounds was something to see. They went wild, particularly the veteran horsemen who have known no other life. When the shutdown came they were lost. They had no other training."

Scarface Skorzeny Hunted In France

SS Leader Of Nazis Was Man Who Organized Kidnapping Of Mussolini In 1943

LONDON, April 2.—(INS)—French police today are conducting an intensive search for "Scarface" Skorzeny, SS leader who organized the airborne kidnapping of Benito Mussolini from his mountain prison in 1943. A Daily Mail correspondent in the French capital reported.

An official "hue and cry" just issued with his photograph in German uniform, states that he is believed to be in France wearing an American uniform with no rank or badges, the correspondent said.

In an urgent appeal for a "vigorous search" the special French police bureau, whose job is to hunt wanted men, describes Skorzeny as a "dangerous individual."

Garden Notes

Some victory vegetables are hardy and can be planted in the open soil as soon as it is workable. Others such as beans, melons, eggplants, peppers, tomatoes and squashes are tender and must not be set out unprotected until all danger of frost has passed.

Moisture is essential for seed germination and although hard-coated seeds such as peas, corn and beans may be soaked in water before planting, it is usually better to wet down the seed furrows and cover the seeds immediately after planting to conserve moisture.

Beans are able to obtain much of their nitrogen from the air, as do other legumes. For this reason they do not deplete the soil but leave it in better condition for a succeeding crop than do non-leguminous crops.

When the maple trees are out in full leaf, it is safe to set out such tender plants as tomato, pepper and eggplants.

Plants of celery cabbage, often called Chinese cabbage, should not be set in the ground too early. Use this as a follow-up crop, because the stalks will grow high and go to seed instead of forming heavy, solid heads if they are planted too early.

Vegetable crops which spread, such as cucumbers, melon, winter squashes and pumpkins, should be planted where they will not over-run smaller crops.

HERE AND THERE IN SPORTS' LAND

MANY bass were smothered by ice at Pine Lake, according to one report which has arrived at this column and another report asserts that tons of fish died in a like manner at Slocum Lake, Wauconda, Ill. There may be a new bowling place here before snow falls next winter. Chief Chinook, Indian grapple, weighs 365 pounds. His crowd taunting antics results in a deluge of popcorn, peanuts and other throwable items. Al Zill, promoter of pro boxing, Youngstown, is lining up a card for the near future.

Hugh Devore, acting head football coach at Notre Dame has announced the appointment of Kenneth L. Stille as line coach. He is a native of Clarendon, Pa., and was a N. D. tackle in 1933-35. Gene Ronzani, Chi-Bear, who previously played with Marquette, will be the Irish backfield coach. Dodgers have sold Whitlow Wyatt 36, vet right hand twirler to the Phils for $10,000. Report from Rome says Primo Carnera is under Gestapo surveillance in North Italy. He became involved in a free-for-all following aspersions by his wife in the dialect of the Udine province against the Germans. Some Nazis were said to have been punched around during the fight.

Jug Girard, Marinette, Wis., star freshman halfback of Wisconsin last fall, has passed his pre-induction physical. X-Ray Nim has asserted he prefers a stewed chicken on a table rather than one at a table. Pvt. Morris Morrie Amovich, former Giant outfielder, has been in New Guinea for more than a year. Indications point to a meeting of the City Baseball League managers Thursday night. Whether or not a meeting will be held will be definitely announced Wednesday. Minneapolis is drawing good fight crowds. Ten thousand witnessed Jackie Graves flatten Charley Riley in the first round. Mrs. N. Leslie Carpenter, Natchez, Mass., fought a 120-122 pound tarpon on a nine thread line at Miami recently according to the U. P.

Wounded Veteran Hurls Fine Ball

NORFOLK, Va., April 2.—(INS)—The Washington Senators take on the sailors of the Norfolk Naval Training Station again today after dropping a 4 to 2 exhibition to the service club yesterday. Lieut. Bert Shepard, the wounded veteran who recently signed with the Senators, pitched a hitless, runless eighth inning in his first appearance.

MACK ROOKIE FEATURES

BALTIMORE, Md., April 2.—(INS)—Shortstop Ed Busch came into new recognition today at the Philadelphia Athletics training camp following his two successive home runs in the Easter exhibition game which the A's dropped to the Baltimore Orioles 5-4. Although the major leaguers led throughout the game, the Orioles rallied to win in the last frame.

Soccer Coach Bill Jeffery's all-time record at Penn State is 101 wins, 13 losses, 20 ties.

Name Winners In Campaign

Eight Week's Pre-Easter
Campaign Of Sunday
Schools Successfully Concluded

The eight weeks pre-Easter in-crease campaign being sponsored by the County Sunday School Association, came to a glorious climax Easter Sunday, as the weather was favorable and the largest attendance of the campaign were regis-tered in practically all of the par-ticipating Sunday schools. The church attendance was also the best of the campaign a number of Sun-day schools reporting over 80 per-cent of the Sunday school attend-ance remaining for the morning worship service, and a few report-ing as high as 90 per cent.

With the highest attendance in the history of the First Presbyterian church, the First Presbyterian Sunday school nosed out the lead-ing Second U. P. Sunday school and were winners of the first New Castle group. This group was the most hotly contested of the four New Castle groups and every Sun-day school in this group had a splendid percentage. The highest attendance of the campaign was registered Easter by the Third U. P. with 657 in attendance.

As in the first group there was but a slight percentage between the First Presbyterian and Second U. P., so in the second group there was a slight percentage difference between the winner, the First U. P., and the second place First Chris-tians. In the third group the Ma-honing Methodist was winner and in the fourth group the Wesley Methodist was winner with a high percentage.

In the church attendance cam-paign in New Castle, the Second U. P. was the winner with the high percentage of the entire campaign of 82.

County Campaign
In the county campaign, outside of New Castle, there was a remark-ably close contest between the Clin-ton Methodist and the Wampum Methodist. The Clinton Methodist had an unusual Easter attendance and nosed out the leading Wampum Methodists by a narrow margin. In the Mt. Jackson district the Mt. Jackson U. P. was the winner and in the Wilmington district the Rich Hill Presbyterian was winner. The Plainsboro Presbyterian was the winner in the Plainsboro dis-trict. The percentage standings of the county schools will be run later in the week.

The winners in this campaign will be given special recognition at the annual county convention to be held in New Castle Thursday, June 14. The campaign, as a whole this year, has probably been the most successful one yet held, and the Easter attendance this year showed a nice gain over the Easter attend-ance of last year.
